With over 6+ years of experience in the education loan industry, I started my career at Credila Financial Services Limited (formerly HDFC Credila), further developed my expertise at Nomad Credit, and later worked with Lorien Finance and am currently working with GlobCred Money. Throughout my journey, I have supported numerous students in securing education loans to achieve their academic aspirations. My deep understanding of the industry, combined with a consistent track record of performance, has enabled me to overcome challenges and deliver impactful results. I am now seeking a management role where I can apply my experience, commitment, and insights to drive the organization's growth and success.
